Developing a diverse community of global learners

Introduction

This policy reflects our ongoing work as a caring, secure and orderly community in which the boundaries of acceptable behaviour are clear, shared and consistent and reflect Ministry of Education Guidance Issued under Ministry of Education Resolution No. 279 / 2025 which became effective from 15 May 2025.

Our intention at Multinational School Bahrain is to enable all students to fulfil their potential. We aim to develop an ethos in which individual students take full advantage of opportunities available to them in the school. We also wish to provide all members of staff with a safe environment in which they can pursue fulfilling and enjoyable careers.

We aspire to the highest standards in all aspects of the life of the school and recognise that we have responsibilities as well as rights. We expect students to behave in a way which recognises the rights of others, such as the right to enjoy a peaceful and successful education and the right to be safe and free from fear. Similarly, staff at the school, have the right to conduct their professional duties without undue hindrance or stress caused by students' challenging behaviour.

We also recognise that young people make mistakes, and the staff's response should guide them towards acceptable behaviour. We insist on standards of proper behaviour for the benefit of all students, so that they learn well and are an asset to the school and society.

Students will be encouraged to accept responsibility for their behaviour and support the development of the school's behaviour code. Good behaviour is encouraged and rewarded. Unsatisfactory behaviour will be addressed in a firm and fair manner and in line with the expectations of the culture, region and the Ministry of Education. The behaviour policy and practice of the school must be accepted; it applies to all students. All rewards and sanctions also apply to all students.

Our rules are based on the principles of:

- respect for ourselves
- respect for other people
- respect for our environment.

They apply on the way to the school, at the school and on the way home from the school, during school trips and also within e-learning environments and in digital environments generally.

Evidence shows that students are more likely to succeed when their parents support the school's strategies and when students know that this is the case. Parents have a vital role to play in this regard.

General

All students are expected to:

- Treat other students and staff with respect.
- Attend the school regularly and on time.
- Behave safely and sensibly.
- Wear the appropriate uniform for each school activity.
- Respect our school environment.
- Treat books, equipment, furnishings and buildings with respect.
- Leave any valuable items at home that are not required for school.

In the Classroom

- Arrive on time for class, with the necessary equipment; queue quietly outside; leave only when dismissed.
- Follow the teachers' instructions. Listen and let others listen and learn.
- Apply effort in class: individually, in pairs, in groups and as part of the whole class.
- Note homework carefully and do it well and submit it on time.

Important notes

The following are examples of unacceptable behaviour and will not be tolerated:

- Behaviour which disrupts a lesson; it harms the education of other students.
- Insolent or insulting behaviour towards staff. This disrupts lessons and imposes undue pressure on staff.
- Bringing any weapons, non-prescription drugs, alcohol or tobacco products or any item which might be dangerous, prohibited or cause damage to the school.
- Bullying or abuse regardless of whether it is online or in person as it may cause physical harm and it destroys an individual's sense of security. All members of the school community have a right to be respected regardless of their cultural background or beliefs.
- Failure to wear uniform. Students not in the correct uniform will be sent home to change. Excessive jewellery shall be removed and make-up and other clothing items which are prohibited will be confiscated and returned at a later date.
- Students' behaviour while out of the school, on all school trips, is subject to the school's behaviour policy.
- Inappropriate use of mobile phones or technologies that will cause any sort of harm to the school or any individual is strictly prohibited.
- Behaviour in the immediate vicinity of the school, on a journey to or from the school, or in some other way which makes a person identifiable as a student at the school.
- Behaviour that could adversely affect the reputation of the school.
- There are occasions when the schools' behaviour policy will apply outside of the school premises i.e. when such behaviour may bring the school into disrepute or is criminal in nature.

All children and their parents will sign an agreement at the start of the year whereby they undertake to adhere to the School's rules and policies. An example of the Secondary School version is found in Appendix 1.

Rewards

It is important to recognise and celebrate the achievements and efforts of those students who behave well and who work hard. We believe that those who behave well develop their own self-esteem and gain increased respect from others.

We reward good work and behaviour as follows:

- Praise for good work or behaviour.
- Commendations written in the student's exercise book.
- Display of particularly good work.
- Reward House points and certificates.
- Letters to parents from the Principal or Heads of School commending outstanding work.
- Prizes and Awards at prize giving assemblies.
- Telephone call home to parents/carers.

Sanctions

The School applies the MNS Behaviour Chart to determine the appropriate sanction in response to various offences by students. A copy of this Chart is attached at the end of this policy and is also placed in each classroom. There are presently two charts displayed at the school i.e. Secondary school and Primary school versions the content of which is identical but redesigned so as to be age appropriate.

Important notes on procedures

We continue to monitor for, and take into account, the guidance of the MOE particularly regarding Social Inclusion taking account of any subsequent guidance published by the MOE.

For students with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) we may make referrals to appropriately qualified third-party professionals when necessary and plan accordingly for the education of these students.

The school's legal duties in respect of safeguarding, students with SEND and all other vulnerable students will be considered when making decisions linked to discipline and behaviour.

Criminal behaviour will normally be referred to the police, MOE and any other competent authority will also be informed whilst simultaneously applying the school disciplinary principles.

Truancy, including leaving the school site without permission, may be referred to the MOE. MOE colleagues support the school and parents in securing improved attendance. In some cases, a student who has not attended for a considerable period of time will be deemed by the MOE to have left the school and will be removed from the school roll. In such cases, parents will be informed beforehand at their last known address. Please note this can only be done in restricted circumstances.

The sanctions referred to herein shall apply to all students save for those who have been identified as having SEND. SEND students shall be catered for in an individualised manner taking into account their particular circumstances.

It should be noted that the decision to impose detention or other sanctions lies with the school. More serious sanctions will be recommended by the school's Student Behavioural Conduct Committee. A consistent approach to behaviour management will be followed at all times.

The Behaviour Charts will be displayed in every classroom in the school. It includes expected behaviour from students and includes the various levels of behavioural incidents and related consequences that are in place within the school.

Restraining a student

Staff and other persons authorised by the Principal may use reasonable force to prevent a student from injuring themselves or others and/or causing significant damage to property. All incidents of this nature must be recorded on the behaviour feedback form, available to all on the shared drive or from the HR Department.

Exclusions from School

Exclusions apply to very serious misconduct. These include suspensions ranging from one day to one academic year, home education or permanent exclusion (expulsion). These can only be issued after a referral via the Student Behavioural Conduct Committee to the Ministry of Education. Students can be suspended immediately without the authority of the MOE for three days if the circumstances warrant an investigation.

When the school is aware that parents of a suspended or sanctioned student are not conversant in English, correspondence relating to the suspension or sanction will be translated into their mother tongue, if reasonably possible.

School work will be set for students who are suspended for more than one day. Parents should contact the Head of School to check that the work is ready for collection. When returned to the school it will be marked by teachers.

It is essential that parents attend the meeting which takes place on the morning of the return to the school of an excluded student and no student will be allowed to return to lessons until a satisfactory minuted meeting with parents has been held.

A counselling programme will begin (unless already in place) and parental involvement/support is vital if we are to achieve the necessary improvement and avoid further behavioural issues which could lead to a permanent exclusion. The school will make every effort to ensure that students who have been temporarily excluded are fully reintegrated into the school.
